HOME HEALTH CARE

PCPs often feel that the decisions surrounding Home Health Care are made at the hospital level with little or no reconciliation with the Primary Care office.

But did you know that your signature controls most certifications and re-certs? And that you can get paid to review the Home Health orders!

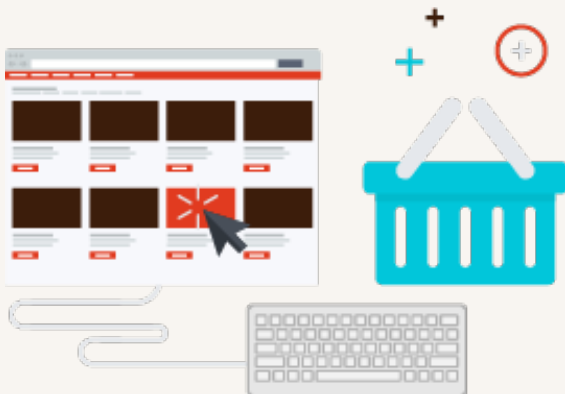

Home Health Plan of Care

G0179 (Average Reimbursement: $53.99): Physician certification for Medicare-covered home health services under a home health plan of care (patient not present)

G0180 (Average Reimbursement: $41.48): Physician RE-certification for Medicare covered home health services under a home health plan of care (patient not present)

Pay Close Attention to Your Home Health Orders!

Did you know that a provider in Texas is spending 10 years in jail because he was robo-signing Home Health orders?! When you sign a Home Health order, you are stating that you agree with all of the information and diagnoses, contained in that order. Your attention to this is crucial!

Check out examples of HH orders with tips on what you can do to reduce unnecessary services, reduce HHC expenses, and ensure your patient is getting appropriate care in the appropriate setting.
